

Underground Comics

An extremely short list (five) of two different publications associated with underground comics: Purple Warp and Boiled Angel. In danger of being lost in the shuffle of zines and underground newspapers, and not fitting easily into the punk fanzine catalogs, we've decided to offer these separately. Please call or email to reserve. Usual terms apply. Thank you for taking the time to look.

Hosier, Tom; Greenier, Al et al. Purple Warp #4. Allen Greenier, Publisher. Hartford, CT: no date, perhaps circa 1972. Side stapled format. 5 ½ by 4 ¼ inches. 8 pp. Black and white illustrations throughout. A magazine featuring underground comix style pieces by a variety of artists. It was created by Tom Hosier and Allen Greenier while arts students in Hartford, Connecticut, to provide an outlet for other artists, regardless of politics or genre. GOOD condition. Moderate wrinkling, some creasing and uneven browning to the piece. Minor soiling. $50.00

Griffith, Bill et al. Purple Warp #8-9. Breakfast of Duchampians. Clandestine Comic Company. Hartford, CT: no date, circa 1972. Side stapled format. 5 ½ by 4 ¼ inches. 16 pp. Black and white illustrations throughout. Another issue of this zine featuring comix and art. Rear cover by Bill Griffith, with contributions from Tom Hosier and others. Mini booklet of faces stapled into the interior. GOOD condition.

Moderate wrinkling, some creasing and uneven browning to the piece.
Minor soiling. $50.00

Hosier, Tom; Greenier, Al. Purple Warp (Journey). #7. Purple Warp, Publisher. Hartford, CT: 1992. Side stapled format. 5 ½ by 4 ¼ inches. 8 pp. Yellow paper with red printing. A later iteration of this comics zine. 8 pages of a comic depicting a meteor crashing and destroying various objects. GOOD condition. Moderate wrinkling, some creasing and uneven browning to the piece. Minor soiling. $30.00

Diana, Mike. Boiled Angel #7. Mike Diana, Publisher. Largo, FL: 1991. Presumed first printing, with no additional printings or information featured on the lower portion of the inside front cover. Fluorescent green wrappers. Unpaginated. Black and white illustrations throughout. Second to last issue of this magazine created by Mike Diana, featuring an array of underground comix style pieces touching on sex, religion and many taboo subjects, often in a graphic and sexuality explicit manner. Issues of this zine caused the FBI to consider the author as a suspect in the Gainesville, Florida serial killings, and when issues were subsequently given to local Florida authorities, Diana was tried and convicted of obscenity charges. This was the apparently the first time anyone had been tried and convicted for artistic obscenity in the United States, despite protests and legal filings from various civil rights organizations. GOOD+ condition. Uneven fading along the extremities. Side staples rusted. Minor wrinkling. $55.00

Diana, Mike. Boiled Angel #Ate (8). Mike Diana, Publisher. Largo, FL: 1991. Presumed first printing, with no additional printings or information featured on the lower portion of the inside front cover. Fluorescent green wrappers. Unpaginated. Black and white illustrations throughout. Last issue of this zine, featuring the usual subjects depicted in graphic fashion. GOOD+ condition. Uneven fading along the extremities. Minor wrinkling. $55.00
